

WATERGATE—Prof. Luigi Moretti, left, of Rome, designer of the $66 million Watergate apartment, office and hotel complex in Foggy Bottom, got together with sculptor Felix DeWeldon, creator of the Iwo Jima Memorial statue, at a reception at the development's offices yesterday. The first of five buildings at Watergate will be "topped out" this week, and two others are under way. Of 238 co-op apartments in the first building, ranging in price from $20,000 to $200,000, two-thirds are already sold, according to the Riverview Realty Corp., the agents. Magazine Bros. are the builders. The project is slated for completion in 1968.

—News Staff Photo